VOLUME 87, ISSUE 4

APRIL 2010

University of Dayton

Political Science Class 300

The City and Social Justice

The final student presentations are scheduled for Thursday, April 22 on the UD campus, St. Joseph Hall, room 230, 3:00-4:15 p.m.

Individuals interested in attending this final project presentation should contact the League office at 228-4041 to coordinate travel and on-campus parking, which is at a premium.

This winter session class involved not only learning and applying the concepts of smart and just growth to real projects in the Dayton community, but it also was designed to help the students build their analytical skills as well as their interpersonal team skills. The class was divided into three teams, with each team working on two projects during the semester. The first project involved making a presentation to the class based on assigned reading utilizing assigned text and web searches.

The second project involved the student teams developing presentations on specific Dayton area regionalism issues for use by the League in a possible consensus process. League members have been invited to attend these final presentations. The three areas to be covered are:

- how to control sprawl by the use of regional land use planning;
- how to promote economic development through regional revenue sharing, and
- how to promote efficiency and effectiveness in the provision of services through cross jurisdictional collaboration.

LEAGUE NITE AT THE NEON

A complimentary showing of Not for Ourselves Alone, the powerful and inspiring Ken Burns documentary, of the lives of Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton was enjoyed by 115 neighborhood guests and League members at the NEON Theater on Wednesday March 24 in a celebration of Women's History Month.

The film focused on the history of Anthony and Stanton and their chance meeting on a street corner in Seneca Falls, New York in 1851; a friendship that ignited a movement that would forever change the lives of women and the history of America.

At intermission attendees were treated to complimentary biscotti, cookies, cheese, fruit, peanuts, and "all you could eat" popcorn provided by League members Barb Buddendeck, Laurie Fanning, Peg Schulz, Brenda Whitney and Susan Hesselgesser.

The movie was met with sighs, laughter, tears and, at times, complete silence; a moving experience that one viewer said had "stayed with her for days and could possibly last a lifetime."

If you would like to view Not for Ourselves Alone, former League President Carol Winslow has donated a copy to the League Library. Call the office 228-4041 to reserve this empowering and inspiring film.

Highlights from Your State League

Your Ohio League of Women Voters is being sought out to give input on legislation — from the drafting stage to legislative hearings and media interviews - on issues including redistricting, campaign finance reform / transparency, election administration and energy conservation. LWV-Ohio Education Fund has cosponsored six Town Hall Meetings with local Leagues, with a particular focus on the importance and interrelationship of redistricting and the Census.

The Latest from the League of Women Voters of the U.S.

Global climate change is one of the most serious threats to the environment, health and economy of our nation. Recent scientific studies show that global warming is already causing environmental changes that will have significant global economic and social impacts.

The League believes that now is the time to act on global climate change. We can reduce global warming pollution by using existing technologies to make power plants and factories more efficient, make cars go farther on a gallon of gasoline, and shift to cleaner technologies. Cities, states and individuals are already adopting many of these solutions, which also reduce our dependence on oil, reduce air pollution, and protect pristine places from oil drilling and mining. State and local initiatives are proving that answers exist.

To reinforce and expand on those efforts, the League urges federal action that reduces global warming pollutants on a national and global scale. LWVUS urges Congress to provide sufficient funds for international programs in 2011.

The League and coalition partners sent a letter to both the House of Representatives and the Senate urging Congress to provide at least the amount proposed by the administration for international programs in 2011. The League is particularly concerned about funding for international adaptation to deal with global climate change.

LWVUS Sunshine Week

From Mary G. Wilson, President, League of Women Voters US

Spring is around the corner, but clouds still cover much of government and how it operates. That's why each year, the League uses Sunshine Week to open the dialogue and urge citizens to get involved with your government. An open and accountable government is the cornerstone of a healthy democracy, and for decades the League of Women Voters has been on the front lines promoting transparency and accountability.

Federal agencies are now developing plans to comply with the Open Government Directive. But we must be vigilant as these plans unfold. That's why we're calling on citizens to help ensure the Obama Administration continues to change the way business is done in our nation's capital.

Locally, the League's grassroots membership continues to be active on issues of government transparency and public participation — operating their Observer Corps programs, conducting public document audits, and holding town hall meetings. At every level, transparency and citizen participation are the critical ingredients to ensuring open and accountable government.

Call to Action for Voter Services

Here is your chance to get to know your candidates and community leaders, plus the absolutely fabulous ladies of the League. You can make a big difference in our community with a small contribution by volunteering just a few hours of your time on one of the new Voter Services activities.

In an effort to better serve our communities, we are forming several new committees. We cordially invite you to participate in any one of the new projects with the League. We are seeking approximately 25 or more League members to fill the much needed manpower to implement and/or expand these programs.

Attached is the list of committees with a brief description and estimated time needed to serve on each committee. Most committees only require a few hours just one time. Some require more. There's a committee for you--one to fit your lifestyle, your time schedule and your interests. Please let us know which committee you would like to participate on by emailing

Sue Blanford: sueblanford@yahoo.com or call 294-0092

Sue Byerly: sbyerly001@woh.rr.com or call 885-9156

President's Message

Do you twitter, tweet, blog, or IM? Are you on LinkedIn or Plaxo? Do you have a facebook?

Where do you get your information about League? Does this process work for you? How would you prefer to learn about what's going on in League?

How do you stay abreast of current issues that are of interest to you? Do you Yahoo? Google? Bing? Watch local news? MSNBC? CNN? PBS? The Daily Show? Listen to Talk Radio? Read local or national newspapers? Time? Newsweek? People? Mother Jones? Atlantic Monthly? Harpers? The Progressive?

During our annual meeting on May 22, we will be discussing these questions and talking about how we can improve our communication among League members as well as with the community in general. We know we need to take more advantage of technology, but what do you think are our best options?

In addition to your opinions on our communication methods, we will also be discussing our strategic plan. A few weeks before the annual meeting, you will receive a copy of our current plan. Please read it over and give some thought to what you think about the stated goals of the current plan, and what you think our League's top three goals should be.

And, for new members, there will be a member-orientation discussion. The purpose of this is to give a general overview of the activities, services and programs offered by our local League. Information about how to become more involved will also be presented as well as an explanation of the roles and responsibilities of board offices and committees.

The final question for the day will be "What do you think is the most important issue for our local League to address in the coming years?"

The answer to these questions and the key points from our discussions will then be used to guide our board during strategic planning sessions to be scheduled in the early fall.

As the League of Women Voters strives to encourage active participation in government, we must first actively participate in our local Leagues. Your attendance at our annual meeting on May 22 is important and very much requested. Hope to see you there!
